Creating Your Life

- Are YOU ready to take responsibility and engage in your life?
- Are YOU ready to take action to re-direct and create the life you want?
- Are YOU ready to gain control and live your destiny?

According to a Harris Interactive Study only 20% of the people you meet are passionate about what they do. Meaning that 4 out of every 5 people you meet are dissatisfied, unfulfilled, disengaged and disconnected from their jobs and most likely their life!

Are you one of the 20% that are aligned with your purpose, have clearly identified your passions and are living a passionate life?

Who would you be if you clarified your passions and were aligned with your life purpose?

The world is changing. Look at the evidence, over the last few years in the financial world, and the health care environment.

It is our time. If we are going to survive and thrive in this new world we need to wake-up, reconnect and re-engage with ourselves, our families, our friends and our communities. Our life is our responsibility.

"When you are clear, what you choose to show up in your life will, and only to the extent you are clear"

~ Janet Bray Attwood, co-author of The Passion Test.
